

JSPS International Fellowships for Research in Japan

Postdoctoral Fellowships for Research in Japan Invitational Fellowships for Research in Japan FY 2020 (2020-2021) Application Guideline

This guideline translates Japanese into English. If any differences in wording or interpretation should occur between Japanese and English, the Japanese guideline will take precedence.

OUTLINE OF FELLOWSHIPS

The Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS) carries out programs that provide overseas researchers who have an excellent record of research achievements with an opportunity to conduct collaborative research, discussions, and opinion exchanges with researchers in Japan. These programs are intended to help advance the overseas researchers' research activities while promoting science and internationalization in Japan.

All fields of the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences are included under this program.

CATEGORIES

Various fellowship categories are provided to accord with the purpose of the overseas researcher's visit.

	Short-term [PE]	To provide opportunities for pre-/post-doctoral researchers from the US, Canada and Europe to conduct, under the guidance of their hosts, cooperative research with leading research groups in universities and other Japanese institutions.
Invitational Fellowships	Long-term [L]	To invite overseas researchers with excellent records of research achievements to collaborate with Japanese colleagues in carrying out research through long-term visits.
	Short-term [S]	To invite overseas researchers with excellent records of research achievements for short-term visits to Japan and provide them opportunities for discussions, opinion exchanges, lectures and other activities.

Notice

1. False information etc., in the application form

Should JSPS determine any information in an application to be falsified, plagiarized or otherwise flawed, the application will be rejected or, if already awarded, the fellowship withdrawn.

2. Response to acts of research misconduct and funding misuse

"Measures Against Misconduct in Research Activities and Misuse (etc.) of Research Funds" (Rule #19, Adopted by the JSPS on 6 December 2006) stipulate actions to be taken by JSPS in response to research misconduct and funding misuse and measures to be taken by organizations within research institutions in executing their responsibility to manage and ensure the integrity of research funds. When established that specific acts of research misconduct and/or misuse of research funds have been committed, actions stipulated in this Rule will be taken.

3. Establishing a system for implementing the "Guidelines for Responding to Research Misconduct"

When making proposals to JSPS and conducting research activities, research institutions are to follow the "Guidelines for Responding to Misconduct in Research" (Adopted by the MEXT on 26 August 2014)." If the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT) judges via the results of an inspection that a research institution's system is inadequate or defective, it or an independent administrative institution under the jurisdiction of MEXT may cut or reduce the research institution's indirect budget allocation of competitive funding.

4. Research ethics education coursework

To promote the proper conduct of research activities and prevent misconduct in advance, it is first necessary to raise the level of researcher ethics within research institutions. When deemed appropriate, therefore, host institution (applicant's (host researcher's) institution) should establish educational courses for candidate (invited overseas researcher) to take in research ethics.

5. Handling of personal information

With regard to personal information contained in application materials, it shall be strictly controlled in accordance with the "Law to Protect Personal Information Held by Independent Administrative Institutions" and JSPS's own regulations for protecting personal information. JSPS will use such information exclusively for implementing its programs. (This may involve the provision of personal information to external companies commissioned to electronically process and manage program-related data.)

If selected for a fellowship, candidates (invited overseas researchers) should note that their name, nationality, title and affiliated organization, host institution, applicant's (host researcher's) name and title may be given public access.

For researchers located within the European Economic Area which embodies the EU, their agreement is to be obtained to follow the above-stated "handing of personal information" in line with the "General Data Protection Regulation."

6. Public disclosure of research theme and other information

If selected, the Fellow's research theme and fellowship tenure will be given public access. In the case of Invitational Fellowships, the Research Report prepared and submitted after the end of the Fellow's tenure will be given public access.

7. Research conducted for a military purpose

JSPS does not support any research project related to military affairs.

8. The Security Trade Control

Much research on cutting-edge technology is being conducted in Japan's research institutions. Along with Japan's advancing internationalization, there has been an increase in the number of foreign students and overseas researchers residing in Japan. This has increased the risk of advanced technologies and research materials and equipment leaking out and for them to be used in the development and production of weapons of mass destruction (WMD). Research institutions are to take systematic measure to keep research results and products that can be diverted to military use out of the hands of WMD developers, terrorist groups, and other persons whose activities are suspect.

In Japan, export controls (*) are carried out under the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act (Act No. 228 of 1949) (hereinafter referred to as "Foreign Exchange Law"). Therefore, in principle, in order to export (provide) cargo and technology regulated by the Foreign Exchange Law, it is necessary to obtain permission of the Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry.

Starting with the Foreign Exchange Law, Fellows must follow all of Japan's pertinent laws and ordinances, guidelines, and directives. If research is conducted in violation of these laws and ordinances, measures and penalties prescribed in them may be enforced along with the termination of the Fellow's research funding or his/her scheduled allocation of research funding.

(*) Export controls

Japan's Security Export Control System established on the basis of international agreements mainly consists of (1) "List rules" which require permission of the Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry in principle when exporting cargo or providing technology that carry specifications and/or functions higher than certain levels, such as carbon fiber and numerically controlled machine tool etc., and (2) "Catch-all regulation" which requires permission of the Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry when exporting cargo or providing technology that are not subject to regulation under the List rules but do fall under certain regulatory requirements (application requirements, consumer requirements and/or informed requirements).

Not only export of cargo but also provision of technology will be subject to the regulation by the Foreign Exchange Law. When providing a "List rules" technology to nonresidents or providing it in a foreign country, prior permission for provision is required. "Provision of technology" includes not only providing technical information such as design drawings, specifications, manuals, samples, and prototypes via storage media such as paper, mail, CD, USB memory, but also providing work knowledge and technical assistance at seminars through technical instruction, skill training etc. Researchers should be aware that there may be case in which technologies subject to regulation by the Foreign Exchange Law are involved when mentoring foreign students and/or joint research activities with oversea groups.

9. Terms of Award

The amounts of the Awards are subject to change for budgetary reasons. Fellows should check the award letter issued at the time of their selection.

Candidates (invited overseas researchers), applicants (host researchers) and host institutions should check the "Program Guidelines" enclosed with the award letter for their obligations under the program, procedures to be carried out, and rules to be followed (e.g. on the conditions for taking a temporary leave of absence, on using the Research Support Allowance). As past Program Guidelines are given public access, please refer them.

Procedure

1. JSPS Electronic Application System

Applicants (host researchers) are required to use the JSPS Electronic Application System for International Collaborations when applying for fellowships.

Please ask to the host institution (applicant's (host researcher's) institution) to issue the ID and password for applicant (host researchers). If applicant (host researcher) has already obtained the applicant ID of International Collaborations, s/he does not need to ask his/her affiliated institution to issue the new ID and password.

JSPS Electronic Application System; https://www-shinsei.jsps.go.jp/topkokusai/top_kokusai.html

2. Applicant (host researcher) and Candidate (invited overseas researcher) Eligibility

The applicant (host researcher) and host institution should verify that the applicant (host researcher) and candidate (invited overseas researcher) satisfy their respective application eligibility requirements.

As the application eligibility requirements differ by program, please refer to each program page in this application Guidelines.

3. Review Section

Screening is carried out by JSPS's selection committee through both document and panel reviews.

As the screening of the applicant's (host researcher's) application will be carried out based on the screening category that s/he chooses, be sure to select the appropriate "Document Review Section" and "Panel Review Section" in accordance with the Review Section Table.

Please refer to JSPS's website for more details on the selection process.

4. Restrictions on Parallel Application/Receipt

As many researchers must be supported under this program with limited financial resources, limits are placed on the number of applications that may be submitted at one time.

(1) Parallel Application by the Candidate (Invited overseas researcher)

- 1) As only one application is allowed per candidate (invited overseas researcher), applicants (host researchers) should verify in advance that no other applications have been submitted for the candidate.
- 2) The same person may not simultaneously be a candidate (invited overseas researcher) for two or more kinds of fellowship programs under each recruitment.

(2) Parallel Application by the Applicant (Host researcher)

- 1) For [P] and [PE] candidates (invited overseas researcher), under each recruitment one applicant (host researcher) may submit up to three applications. When parallel applications are submitted, the applicant (host researcher) should state the order of his/her priority.
- 2) With regard to [L] and [S] candidates (invited overseas researchers), application is limited to one candidate for each recruitment.

5. Preparing an Application

Applications must be submitted to JSPS by an applicant (host researcher) in Japan via the host institution (applicant's (host researcher's) institution).

Applicants (host researchers) and candidates (invited overseas researchers) are to prepare their applications using the prescribed form (which may differ by program). When preparing the form, make entries with regard to Human Right Protection and Legal Compliance (*). When preparing your application, in addition to the JSPS Application Guidelines also be sure to refer to the "Instructions for the application forms" provided for each program on the JSPS website.

(*) Issues Relevant to Human Right Protection and Legal Compliance

When the proposed research involves such issues that require obtaining the research subject's consent and/or cooperation of a third party, consideration in the handling of personal information, or actions related bioethics and/or biosafety (including guidelines and policies used by the counterpart country in conducting international joint research and by countries/regions implementing research), please state the measures and actions planned for handling such issues.

This applies to research activities that require approval by an internal or external information committee or ethical jury, such as for research involving questionnaire surveys, interviews and/or behavior surveys (including personal histories and images), surveys of domestic or overseas cultural properties, research involving personal information, the handling of donated specimens, invasive properties, human genome analysis, recombinant DNA, and experimentation with animals. In such cases, please state concretely the status of your processing and procedures.

(1) Applicant (Host researcher)

Please send (submit) the application form using (through) the JSPS Electronic Application System by the deadline designated by the host institution (depending on the institution, it may have its own deadline more than one month before the application deadline set by JSPS).

(2) Candidate (invited overseas researcher)

Candidates are to prepare their applications together with the applicant (host researcher).

(3) Person in charge at the host institution

The institution's applications are to be sent (submitted) to the president of JSPS by the application deadline for each program. Before sending the applications, it should be verified that they have been approved by the head of the host institution and that the below-stated requirements* will be carried out if the applications are approved. When submitting the applications, first check the "List of Candidates" on the JSPS Electronic Application System to verify that the registered information is correct. The sending (submitting) of the institution's applications to JSPS is considered to mean that the head of the host institution has accepted the candidate(s) (invited overseas researcher(s)) to the host institution.

If an application is sent (submitted) after the prescribed application deadline, it will not be accepted; therefore, please send (submitted) applications with plenty of time in advance.

* Requirements for head of host institution if the institution's application(s) are approved by JSPS

- Verify to JSPS that the host institution has accepted the candidate(s) (invited overseas researcher(s)).
- Notify the applicant(s) (host researcher(s)) and candidate(s) (invited overseas researcher(s)) of JSPS's and the host institution's rules against improper conduct in research activities and in the use of funding, including penalties for violations, and have them strictly observe these rules.
- Acquire an understanding of and agree to the stipulations in the Application Guidelines with regard to the handling of person information.

6. Notification of selection results

The president of JSPS will notify in writing the head of the receiving research institutions of the selection results, and will issue an award letter and related documents to the successful applicants (host researchers) and candidates (invited overseas researchers). The names of the successful applicants and candidates and their research themes (etc.) will be posted on JSPS's website.

Unsuccessful candidates (invited overseas researchers) are not directly notified of their selection results. Applicants (host researchers) should notify them of the results.

Individual requests for selection results are not accepted.

Acceptance documents will be sent to the successful candidates.

•The names of the awardees, host researchers and institutions as well as their research themes will be posted on JSPS's website.

After selection, they will be expected to observe the regulations and procedures stipulated in the “Program Guidelines” for the JSPS International Fellowships Program. If either the fellow or host researcher should fail to do so, the fellowship may be withdrawn, allowances (including airfares) stopped, and already-paid allowances (including research grants) reclaimed.

- (1) So as to allow the smooth progress of the candidate’s research in Japan, before submitting an application, the applicant (host researcher) shall fully inform the candidate of conditions at the host laboratory, including his/her status under the fellowship, and will ascertain the candidate’s acknowledgement to accept those conditions.

2. Cooperation in carrying out site surveys and questionnaires

Site surveys are carried out on host institutions for the purpose of verifying the program's implementation system and the management, execution and auditing of program funding. Applicants (host researchers) and candidates (invited overseas researchers) are asked to cooperate in these surveys. Also, questionnaires are carried out for the purpose of improving JSPS programs. Applicants (host researchers), candidates (invited overseas researchers) and host institutions will be asked to fill out these questionnaires.

3. Promotion of "Open Access" to the research papers supported by JSPS International Fellowships for Research in Japan

JSPS endorses general policy of promotion of open access of publications of research results funded by public grants including KAKENHI. Note that open access is not mandatory if there are justifiable reasons for deferral such as copyright-related issues, or insufficient repository infrastructure at the research institution.

The open access implementation policy of JSPS is given on the following webpage:

URL: https://www.jsps.go.jp/data/Open_access.pdf

(1) Reference 1: What is "Open Access"

Open access refers to the basic idea that research papers published in peer-reviewed journals should be made freely accessible by anyone.

(2) Reference 2: Different Routes to Open Access

There are 3 main ways of open access implementation (1) to 3) below)

- 1) A way to make open the access to the article which is published in the conventional subscription fee type academic journal after a certain period (Embargo) (* 1) (for example 6 months later) by opening the final manuscript to an Institutional Repository (* 2) established by the research institution to which the author belongs, or by opening the final manuscript to the website etc. established by the researchers (self-archiving) (* 3).
- 2) A way to make the article open access by posting the article on the Web established by the research community or public institution.
- 3) A way to make the article open access immediately by paying the publication fee (APC: Article Processing Charge) by the author of the article.

*1: "Embargo"

The predetermined period from the time of publication of an article in an academic journal to the time of release so that it can be posted on an online open access archiving system (repository).

*2: “Institutional Repository”

An online archiving system created by university or research institution for storage and dissemination of the intellectual products. Institutional repositories play important roles in the reform of academic information distribution by enabling the researchers register their own articles, such as the transmission of research and education achievements of the research institution, PR for both the research institution and the researcher, guaranteeing the accountability of research and education activities towards society, and the long-term conservation of intellectual products.

*3: “Self-archiving”

Self-archiving refers to online posting of articles published in academic journals, dissertations, or data by those other than the publisher, (the researcher or research institution) generally on their institutional repositories.

4. Registration of the Researcher Information in researchmap

“researchmap” (<https://researchmap.jp/>) is, as a general guide to Japanese researchers, Japan’s largest researcher information database. Registered information on research results can be openly disseminated over the Internet. As researchmap is linked to e-Rad and many university faculty databases, it allows registered information to be accessed by other systems. Furthermore, the Japanese Government has planned to utilize further the researchmap, please register researcher information in researchmap.
