FY2025 Welcome JSPS Fellows!

DIALOGUE

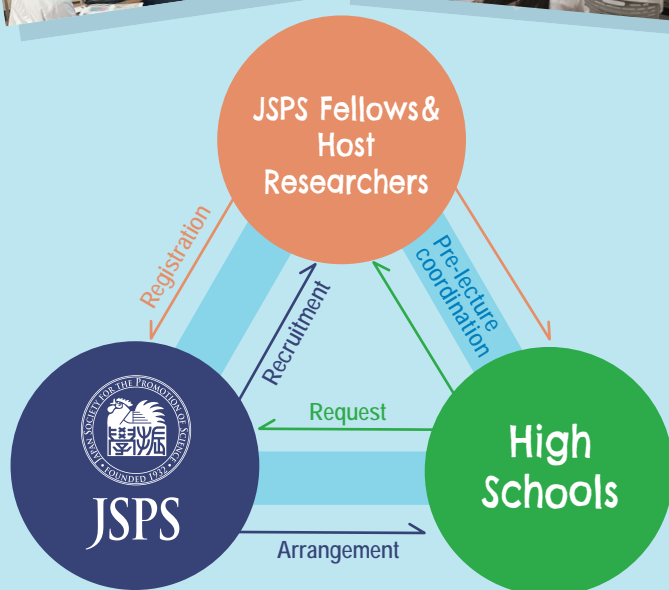

YOUNG INTERNATIONAL RESEARCHERS

INTRODUCE JAPANESE STUDENTS TO THE REALM OF SCIENCE

What's the Science Dialogue?

The program offers JSPS Fellows the unique opportunities to volunteer to give lectures in English on their research work at high schools in the vicinity of their host institutes. The aim of the lectures is to stimulate the young students' interest in research and deepen their understanding of science from a global point of view through interacting with overseas Fellows. As for the Fellows, the participation in the program will be an enjoyable opportunity to communicate with the local community and strengthen their ties with Japan.

Comment From A Former Lecturer

We were warmly welcomed by the high school principal, the staff and the students. Before the ice-breaking session, the students are rather shy but gradually they enthusiastically engaged in the lecture, showcasing more active participation. Q&A session was done privately as students come to me in groups or individually to thank me directly for the lecture or to ask questions.

Moreover, I deeply appreciate the students' courage in which getting better gradually towards the end of the lecture. One of the things that touch me deeply was that one student came to tell me that he was inspired by my lecture and would consider being a scientist for his future. Hearing such remarks from the students warms my heart. (Extract from the report of a 2024 lecturer)
