Invitational Fellowships for Research in Japan (Long-term / Short-term)
FY 2026 (2026-2027) Instructions for the Application Forms

1. About the application in general

- Applications are only received when sent over the JSPS Electronic Application System.
- The items you enter will be used in the screening of your application and as basic data by JSPS after you are selected. Please fill them out correctly.
- Applicants and candidates must check the deadline set by the host institution as it may be a month or more prior to the submission date to JSPS.
- Host institutions are to confirm whether the applicant (host researcher) is able to accept and take responsibility for the fellow throughout their tenure, especially when the applicant is not employed fulltime or employed under a fixed-term contract or employed by an external funding source. The applicant must fulfill the obligations of a host researcher described on page 9-10 of the Application Guidelines after the candidate is awarded the fellowship. Application should not be made if the applicant knows at the time of submission that they will not be able to host the fellow during the full period of their tenure for such reasons as being scheduled to leave their position in the host institution or reaching retirement age.
- The total number of application pages is as below.
  - *Long-term 10 pages in total (L-1 (1 page)、L-2 (7 pages)、L-3 (2 pages))
  - *Short-term 8 pages in total (S-1 (1 page)、S-2 (5 pages)、S-3 (2 pages))
- Except where otherwise instructed, the forms are to be prepared in Japanese or English. This rule does not apply to proper nouns and technical terms. When needed to understand these words, please annotate them in Japanese or English.
- The only kanji sets used in the Electronic Application System are JIS level 1 and 2. The other kanji sets, non-JIS characters, and special fonts can't be used. In other cases, please use English letters.

- You should fill out all required fields marked by (*). Though you do not need to fill out fields that are not required, there are some items that require you to make entries in both Japanese and English.
- If you enter information incorrectly or fail to fill out required fields, an error message will be displayed. Correct the error according to the displayed message.
- Save data periodically when preparing the form as a session timeout may occur if you leave the system inactive for a period of time. If there is an input error in Form L-1/S-1, you must upload it again together with other forms (L2, L-3, S-2, S-3), even when you have already uploaded them.
