(in Japanese)
- Lecture summary (講演概要): Please summary your lecture 200-500 words.

My presentation lasted for 50 minutes and it covered four main topics: (1) a short introduction on Romania (e.g.: location, history, landscapes, famous Romanians); (2) my personal story about how I got interested in economics and econophysics during my last year of high school; (3) what is econophysics, its main results and finally (4) my current research on occupational mobility networks.

In order to facilitate their understanding I tried to speak slower and represent my ideas as visual as possible, by including pictures from Romania, with the main results in econophysics and in my own research. After each topic Prof. Hideaki Aoyama translated in Japanese the main points covered in that section. In think this help a lot the understanding of the students since they were high school freshmen, so not so used with English presentations.

After the talk we had 10 minutes Q&A sessions, during which the students we encouraged to ask questions either in Japanese or English. I received very good questions regarding my research, my career plans and the recent history of Romania, which proves that they had a high level of comprehensibility. Overall it has been a very nice experience, all the way from the preparation to the delivery of the lecture.
