In my talk I have attempted to give only usefull and interesting information, e.g. the opportunities for future career, which my audience will have. The lecture was partly made as discussion – students were giving ideas, talking about their thoughts and opinions on different topics. My presentation consisted from three parts. The first part was devoted to my story – where I was born, where I was working. In second part I was talking about career oportunitites and my choice. I have explained the research I conducted during master, PhD and postdoc programs. The emphasis was given on the thigs I do like in academia and why I have decided to take this path. I have compared the experience of living in different countries and working in both – academia and industry. The last part was entitled as "dialogue" and I have discussed with students the demands of humanity and the ways to satisfy them.
