- Lecture summary (講演概要): Please summary your lecture 200-500 words.

At the beginning of lecture, I introduced my country, France (geography, different places where I lived, architecture, gastronomy,...). Then I presented my studies to become researcher in organic chemistry. And I explain quickly what is research (in general and more specifically in organic chemistry), and what a researcher do. On the third part I tried to explain why organic chemistry is important for our life by showing some specific examples of organic molecules found in our daily life. And then I extend my presentation to the natural molecule produce by animals, plants or bacteria to introduce the last part where I present the research perform in the laboratory of Pr. Inoue at the University of Tokyo. In this part, I talking about the synthesis of natural products, I explained what the total synthesis is, comparing with a very simple example (the Lego game). To illustrate my point I used some pictures of the experiments we performed everyday in the laboratory. Finally, I conclude by explaining why this research is important.
