In this lecture, I presented about "Integrated coal Gasification Combined Cycle (IGCC)". My talk was divided into five sections. In section 1, I introduced myself and gave presentation about my country (section 2). In section 3, I explained the importance of being a researcher and its benefits to society. In section 4 details of IGCC plant was discussed and starting from coal is the largest source of energy for the electricity generation worldwide, but burning of coal is one of the major contributors to climate change. Due to the crises of fossil fuel depletion and environmental degradation, efficient utilization of energy and technology improvement have become an important public agenda of most developed and developing countries like Japan and India. Finally, in section 5 I briefly discussed my current research work. After presentation we had question and answer session and had a good discussion.
- Overall advice or comments to future participants in the program (今後の講師へのアドバイス):

It is a good oppurtinty to interact with Japanese students.
- Other noteworthy information (その他特筆すべき事項): - - -

- Impressions and opinions from a company (同行者の方から、本事業に対する意見・感想等がありましたら、お願いいたします。)

The lecture was useful to the students and it helps them to understand many things starting from different culture, country, people and to different areas of research. The lecture also gives some idea about what they can pursue after graduating from school.
