- Lecture summary (講演概要): Please summary your lecture 200-500 words.
New Zealand has come a long way, from a small British colony in the 19th century developing into a modern liberal and democratic state today with independent foreign policies. This presentation gives a brief review of New Zealand's history, economic and political development. It focuses on a few prominent social issues that remain a prioritized place on the agenda for public debate, such as colonialism, indigenous people's rights, trade, gender equality and social justice.

- Overall advice or comments to future participants in the program (今後の講師へのアドバイス):
The host school staff were very friendly and easy to work with. I suggest the future fellow takes more time to communicate with the host before the lecture, preferably with a telephone discussion about the lecture topic and arrangement.
