In my lecture, based on the questions collected from students in advance, I gave an introduction about my research and study in university. There were three parts in this lecture. In the first part, I showed them what is a ph. D, explained my research and the main steps in an empirical economic analysis by using some daily examples. In the second part, I outline the difference between high school and university. In the last part, I answered some of questions asked by the students, and gave some suggestions based on their questions.

◆Other noteworthy information (その他特筆すべき事項):

Due to the effect of Covid-19, the lecture was held on-line. Ms. Tsuisui (English teacher at Aichi Prefectural Nishio High School) prepared everything well and collected questions from students in advance. Thanks to her, the on-line presentation could go smoothly.
