- Lecture summary (講義概要): Please summarize your lecture within 200-500 words.

In my lecture, I initially introduced myself and my country and the similarities and differences between the Philippines and Japan. I proceeded to introducing my background on how I become a researcher. Then I introduce about my research on vectors and diseases as well as the importance of studying them. I focused then on my main topic which are ticks. I carefully explain the life cycle of the ticks, important anatomical and physiological characteristics of the ticks. I tried to make them realize on how knowing the anatomy and physiology could be a good path in the development of methods to control these ticks. In between slides and during presentation, I answer some of the questions of the students regarding vectors and ticks. After the main presentation, we proceeded with the question and answer session wherein I have shared with them some personal stories on my journey to become a researcher. I gave them some career advice especially on becoming scientist. I also share them life lessong I have learned that they may apply when they are in the crossroads of their careers especially that it would be just a matter of time that they could enter a university and select a course that they would want to pursue in college.
