

FY2016 Inter-University Exchange Project Nagoya University

Support for the Formation of Collaborative Programs with Universities in Asia

【Name of project】(Adopted year: FY2016, ( Type A —①CAMPUS Asia ))

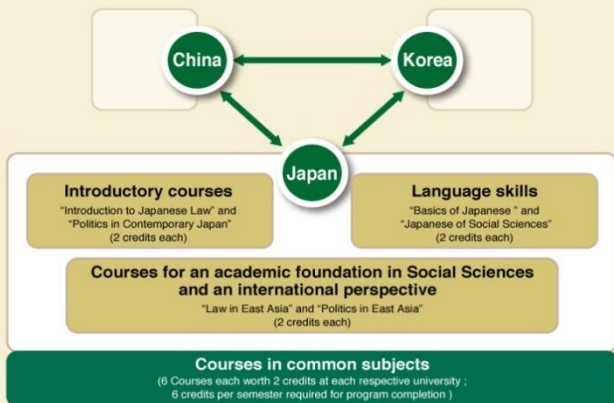

Training human resources for the development of an epistemic community in law and political science to promote the formation of "jus commune (common law)" in East Asia

【Summary of Project】

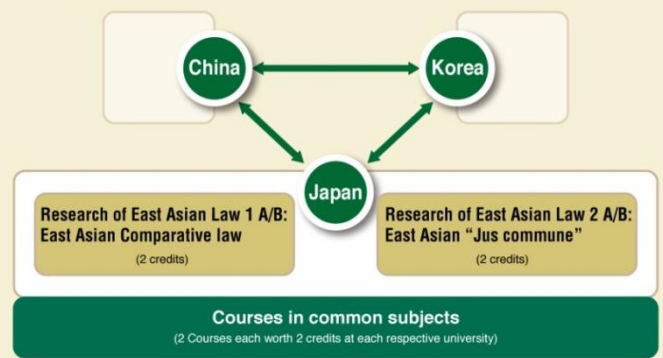

This project is aimed at developing, on the basis of an understanding of the Western "global standards of law," human resources for an epistemic community in law and political science that can take an active role in discussions with a view toward forming a jus commune (common law) in East Asia. Collaborating with partner universities in China and Korea through exchange programs for undergraduate students based on reciprocal conferment of academic credits and research-focused graduate exchange programs, as well as other forms of exchange of quality-assured research and education, the participating universities thus exchange legal information in East Asia, together working toward forming theories on Asian law and assistance for legal infrastructural development, as well as establishing common standards for jurist training and law school education.

Human resource development at Undergraduate level

Human resource development at Graduate level

【Summary of Exchange program】

Nagoya University sends and accepts five students each from China and Korea for one or two semester each academic year. In addition, additional short stay programs are conducted to provide opportunities for various exchange.

【Global Human Resource on the project】

The objective of the project is to develop suitable human resources in order to enable the formation and operation of the East Asian "jus communes" for closer economic, diplomatic and political cooperation in the region.

【Project Features】

What makes this project unique is that universities from Japan, China, and Korea which lead Asia in legal research participated to approach the formation of an East Asia Common Law from the perspectives of both research and educational activities.

Student-Mobility

○ Outbound

In 2016, one student to China and two students to Korea were sent as fifth term students. For the short term program, eight students were sent to China and ten students were sent to Korea including students from Law School and Graduate School of Law.

○ Inbound

In September 2016, four students each from China and Korea were accepted.

■ Forming the University Network with Quality Assurance

○ Dean's Meeting and Quality Assurance Council

The 7th Dean's Meeting was held on March 2017. The 13rd Quality Assurance Council (Beijing) was held in September 2016 , the 14th Quality Assurance Council (Seoul) was held in December 2016 and the 15th (Nagoya) was held in March 2017.

○ 4th Student Symposium

The 4th Student Symposium was held in March 2017, with the students who finished their dispatch playing the main role. At this year's Students Symposium, participants discussed how knowledge gained from the long term program has influenced or will influence their career designs, and presented the potential for an East Asia Jus Commune (Common Law), taking into consideration the current status of research in law and political science within our countries of Japan, China, and Korea which is the intended objective of this program.

■ Promotion of Student-Mobility Environment

○ Conclusion of Agreement

At the 7th Deans Meeting, the Jus Commune Triangle Agreement for Academic Exchange and Cooperation for the next phase was concluded in consideration of the fact that a sustainable framework of human resource cultivation had been fundamentally established based on this pilot project.

○ Utilizing Students Associations

Students who finished their dispatch are being placed in the center of publicity activities to recruit new students, manage events such as Student Symposiums and language clubs, and create a community for inbound and expected outbound students. Such activities are contributing to helping students feel more comfortable participating in activities.

■ Internationalization of the university Information disclosure and Publication of outcome

○ Students' Future Academic and Career

Among the 6 students who participated in this program and graduated Nagoya University in March 2017, 1 proceeded to Master's program and another preparing for entering Law School. Additionally, 1 joined the Prefectural Government office and 3 obtained employment at leading Japanese corporations that play active roles throughout Asia. From such outcomes, it can be said that the program's intended objective is being steadily and reliably being achieved.

○ Renewal of Campus Asia Pamphlet and Homepage, & Issue of the Alumni Association Newsletter Volume 2

The Campus Asia homepage and pamphlet were renewed with the initiation of the new phase. Also, students took the lead to create the Alumni Association Newsletter utilizing the network of the Alumni Association. The newsletter, which introduced the experiences of current students and alumni who participated in the longer programs as well as providing a peek in to the lives of students currently on dispatch, were distributed to the related parties and served as effective PR material.

■ Good Practices

○ Career Development Seminar

Lawyers, faculty, and corporate executives who are internationally active within East Asia, as well as students who wish to become globally active, gave presentations and participated in general discussions to help deepen students' understanding of the current affairs of international activities and strengthened the support for student entry into the global community. Many alumni also attended in this seminar and interacted with current students.
